2022-23 Longwood Gardens Fellows Program Applications Close August 31

Do you have a passion to lead in the public horticulture environment? Grow that passion and advance your leadership journey by applying or nominating a candidate to be a part of our 2022-23 Fellows cohort.

A unique leader-development program, our tuition-free, 13-month Fellows Program is a residential working and learning experience tailored to further develop high-potential individuals' leadership skills while heightening their self-awareness. During the program, Fellows delve into topical leadership-related issues and learn from thought leaders across a spectrum of professions. The program also features a monthly stipend, housing, and individualized opportunities for global leader development in the field of public horticulture.

The 2022-23 Fellows Program begins in June 2022. Cohort applications close August 31, 2021.
